1.0 Justification In Joining The Activity

Chinese Festivals are important festivals for me as a chinese. I wish I still had the opportunity to answer the related questions. I joined this quiz to challenge myself. Not everyone who joins this activity will win the prizes and here is my opportunity to win the quiz with my chinese knowledge. I also want to learn new things and develop new skills from that quiz. I believe that I can gain more knowledge about chinese traditional Chinese festivals when answering the quiz. I also want to find the meaning behind traditional or religious festivals.

2.0 The Graduate Attributes That Are Focuses On

1. Communication skills

Communication skills are essential in this quiz because I have to listen to the organizer and the person in charge of this quiz. This is to ensure that I will not miss any crucial parts. Listening is one of the most important aspects in communication and I have to understand the written information in the telegram group and understand the question in the quiz.

2. Thinking Skills

Thinking skills are mental activities which will be sharpened when thinking about the answer for some particular questions in the quiz. I use my thinking skills when I try to solve problems in that quiz. Thinking just happens automatically when I answer the questions in the quiz. Thinking enables me to gain more experiences into the existing understanding of chinese traditional festivals and at the same time I can get the meaning behind traditional or religious festivals.

3. Leadership and Teamworking Skills

Leadership and teamworking skills are key for a quiz to be carried out successfully. The organizers are like leaders and the participants are like members. The members have to listen and follow the instructions of the leaders during the quiz. Then, we have to voice out what are the problems we faced during the quiz and other members will come to assist us.

4. Adaptability

This is the first time I am participating in a quiz competition using the quizizz. There is time counting down for each question such as 10 seconds for one question. I need to adapt to the quiz environment and calm myself down when the time is counting down. At the same time, I have to figure out the solution within 10 seconds. Actually there is no more time for me to think a lot, what I have to do is just relax and answer those questions as fast as I can.
