- Thinking Skills
- Leadership and Teamworking Skills
- Adaptability

3. Position/Role in the Activities

I have been a FDC committee since 13/12/2019, and have the position as leader of the dance department. In FDC, we have committees that are separated to the president, vice-president, multimedia department, marketing department and dance department. As a dance department, we decide the songs to teach for online/offline sessions and plan for the performance.

4. Mini Report

I have participated in this club activity because I have interest in dancing and performing and was eager to teach students the dancing skills that I have and have learned before. In FDC Club, there are various activities which are ice-breaking, learning new kpop,epop dance sessions, performing in concerts or festivals, collaborating with other universities, etc.

First of all, we could develop thinking skills by joining the performance. When we have an offer or invitation for a performance, the committee and the FDC members who join the performance have to think and plan well for the performance such as how many people we should include, what song to perform, length of the FDC performance, dance formation, flow of the performance, etc. From here, we could develop thinking skills and creative ideas by discussing with other members.

Second, we could gain leadership and teamworking skills by joining the performance. When we decide to perform, we need PIC(Person In Charge) for each song that should be performed. And PIC has to discuss the formation and ideas of the performance, teaching the dance to members who join this performance, practicing and helping to correct the dance moves for each member. From this experience, we could gain leadership as PIC since It is responsible, and also could gain team working skills by practicing synchronized dance for better performance.

Third, we could gain adaptability in the FDC club since there are various members who are from various faculties. When the new semester starts, we always have an ice breaking session to get to know each other. And when we have a session online or offline, we learn together and help each other when we don't understand the dance moves. From these activities, even though we meet a new member of FDC, we can easily adapt in this club because we have a lot of interaction. Furthermore in online sessions, we open our camera and voice in the meeting to interact to know whether they think the speed and understanding of the dance moves are fine or not. Thus, we could still gain our adaptability even in the online session.

5. Self-reflection

I have participated in teaching students the dance in offline and online usual sessions, planning and teaching students the dance for offline performance such as TEDxUTM2020, Durare Eternamente Concert organized by Chinese Orchestra Team, Mooncake festival 2019 organized by Pesta Tanglung UTM and online performance TEDxUTM2021. I have done not only teaching and performing, but also planning and deciding to participate in the concert or performance that is offered by other clubs.

First of all, I could develop my thinking skills when I was conducting the online dance gathering session. Since we have to conduct the session online, we faced the problem of how to attract students to join. From this issue, I have thought about and suggested some special sessions such as Relay Dance Challenge for Promote, "Throwback to Old K-pop Group", "Christmas Gathering with learning christmas song dance".

Second, I could gain leadership when I was PIC for synchronized dance that collaborates with FDS(Flying Dance Studio Club) in TEDxUTM2020. As a PIC, I have discussed the formation and ideas of the performance with FDS PIC, teaching the dance to members who join this performance, practicing and helping to correct the dance moves for each member. Also, I could gain team working skills by practicing synchronized dance.

From this FDC Club, I could learn how to improve my leadership by leading a group of members to perform. And after the performance, I could feel rewarded for the effort that I have done such as teaching, practicing together.

Lastly, we actually faced the problem when we weren't able to do offline sessions due to COVID-19. Therefore, we discussed and decided to open the online sessions to teach dance moves. But another problem was that students are not getting more interest than before and the number of students who joined the online session were few. Thus we tried different things like relay challenge dance, preview video, and special theme of the online sessions. Therefore, we could attract students to join our online session.
