To Whom It May Concern,

Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing in reference to Hashed Moqbel Abdullah Farea Al-Naeem for his outbound exchange program application. Hashed was a student in my computational mathematics class during his first semester and he still stay in contact with me.

Hashed has always demonstrated a good level of maturity, attitude and has ability to learn quickly. Hashed is bright and attentive student in the class and very committed in completing the assignment. I believed he is capable to excel in academic.

Hashed has also actively participated in University extra-curricular activities and competitions. He has won many awards including gold award in The Great Lab Grand Design Challenge Finale and first place winner in The Great Precision Farming Hackathon. Hashed has demonstrated excellent leadership ability skills as a leader for various events in school, university and society.

In conclusion, I am convinced that Hashed has both academic and personal qualities for the outbound exchange program. I am confident that he will thrive in the program and the program is very beneficial for his self-development. Thus, I give his my recommendation without reservation.

Yours Sincerely,

Dr Noorfa Haszlinna Binti Mustaffa

To Whom It May Concern,

Re: Letter of Recommendation for Mr Hashed Moqbel Al-naeem

I have known Hashed for over a year and a half as his academic advisor. As Hashed's academic advisor, I worked closely with him and guided him through his studies during his time under my supervision. Hashed is a very hardworking and self-disciplined student who can apply himself independently with minimum supervision. Hashed is also a team leader in many subjects and courses. His teamwork spirit can be evidenced by his excellent student peer evaluation for his term's projects in many classes. He is a very studious student who is keen on acquiring new knowledge and skills. Currently, he is also serving a volunteer program on one of the AIESEC in Malaysia projects, titled "Light Refugee dreams for Teaching and Monitoring on Refugee level of education".

Overall, Hashed would be a perfect candidate for this exchange program. He is a resourceful, creative, and solution-oriented person who has frequently been able to come up with new and innovative approaches to the ever-changing requirements in any project he is working on. His enthusiasm and dedication have proven to be crucial to the success of accomplishing the tasks in every assignment and project. He conducts himself professionally. I would like to give my full support without any reservation to recommend this young man in his application to the program. I believe his contribution, and also what he will gain, will be significant and worthwhile,

Sincerely

To Whom It May Concern,

Dear. Mr/Ms

I had the pleasure of teaching Hashed Moqbel Al-naeem in his first year of software engineering grade honors Programming Technique class at University Technology Malaysia. Indeed, Hashed is an extraordinary young man student . As his Programming Technique in C++ Professor, I have seen many examples of his talent and have long been impressed by his diligence and work ethic. Throughout the semester Hashed was an active participant in our discussions, and he always supported his peers. His caring nature and personality allow him to work well with others in a team setting, as he always respects others' opinions even when they differ from his own.

I understand that Hashed is applying to the undergraduate outbound exchange program. I would like to recommend him for admission.

Hashed has outstanding organizational skills. He is able to successfully complete multiple tasks with favorable results despite deadline pressure. I must also make note of Hashed's exceptional academic performance. Out of a class of 150 students, Hashed passed with honors in the top 10 in my subject.

His above-average performance is a direct result of his hard work and strong focus. If your program is seeking superior candidates with a record of achievement, Hashed is an excellent choice. He has consistently demonstrated an ability to rise to any challenge that he must face, To conclude, I would like to restate my strong recommendation for Hashed Alnaeem.

If you have any further questions regarding Hashed's ability or this recommendation, please do not hesitate to contact me.

To Whom It May Concern,

warm greeting !

It is a true pleasure for me to write this letter of recommendation for Hashed Moqbel Al Naeem, who was my student in Ethics and civilization, "Introduction to engineers ethical and leadership," in his first semester in 2020 of his university journey . Hashed is, without question, one of the four or five most outstanding students I have taught at the University technology Malaysia.

Hashed is a careful and creative thinker with an eye for details and a devotion to logic, which serves him well both in the study of computer science and other broader areas. He has the terrific ability to draw on his own experience and observations to develop thoughtful opinions on a variety of issues. Hashed already knew he wanted to major in software engineering when he took my course, but this did not diminish his intellectual curiosity about the topics we covered in Ethics and world civilization. His regular contributions to class discussions provided insight both for his peers and for me as a lecturer.

Hashed was also invaluable in small-group interactions with his peers. Without my asking, he took on the responsibility of helping his classmates consolidate vast amounts of information into coherent sets of ideas, and he quickly became a study group leader. In addition, Hashed was very generous with his time and energies. I remember him meeting individually with a students from Yemen and different countries several times before the final exams to help his classmates and present all the materials in a foreign tongue.

Hashed inspired us by his knowledge. With his writing, he was the best writer for his reports and reflection in the two sections I taught that semester and what was perhaps even more impressive was that he took the task of improving his writing as, or more seriously than any other student in the class. Indeed, I am using his reflection and final report as a sample for the upcoming students, as it is the best undergraduate reflection and report written in my subjects.

Sincerely
