

PROPERTIES PRICE & TYPES IN KUALA LUMPUR

Average of Price by Property Type

This Donut Chart represents the average price based on property type. It represents the average price per unit of each property type.

Based on the chart, Residential Land property type has the highest average price, with almost 2 times of Bungalow type's average price. We can say that the price of a Residential Land is the highest out of all property types on average.

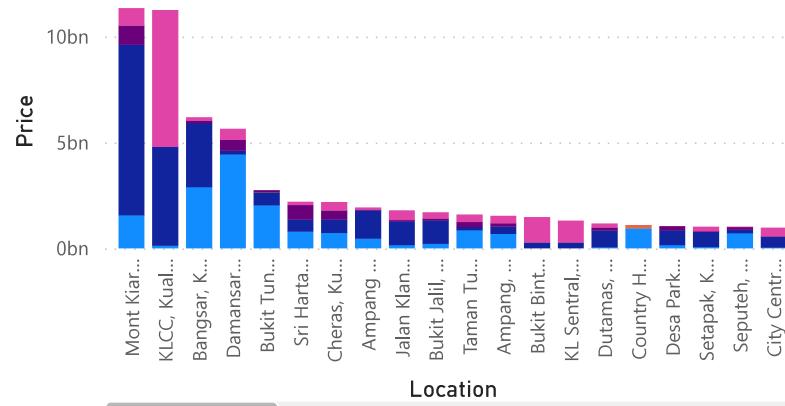

69bn

Total Price of Units (RM)

This number represent the total price of all the properties listed in the data,

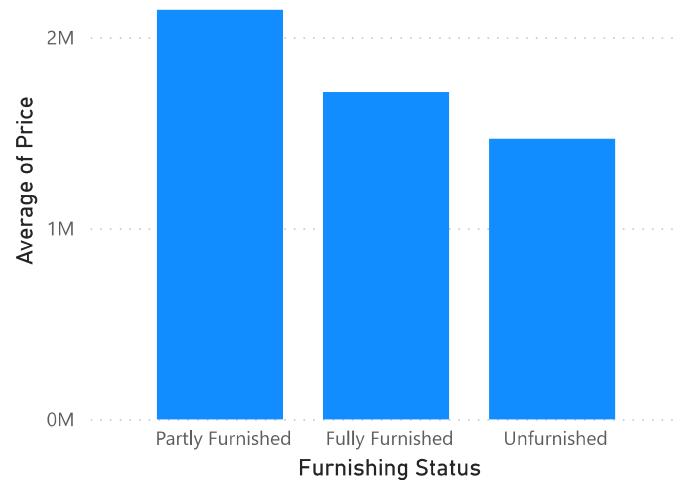

Price by Location and Property Type

Property Type ● Bungalow ● Condo... ● Residenti... ● Semi-det... ● Serviced ...

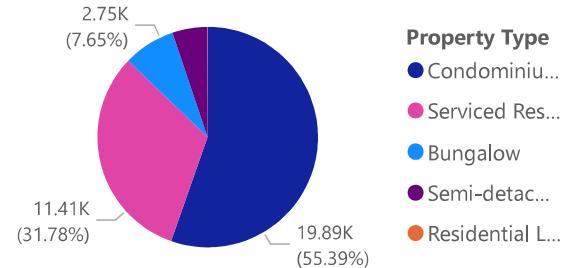

This Column Chart represents the total price of properties available at each locations in Kuala Lumpur. From the graph, Mont Kiara and KLCC locations have the highest total property values. There's a big difference of almost 1 time compared to Bangsar, the third highest location.

Average of Price by Furnishing Status

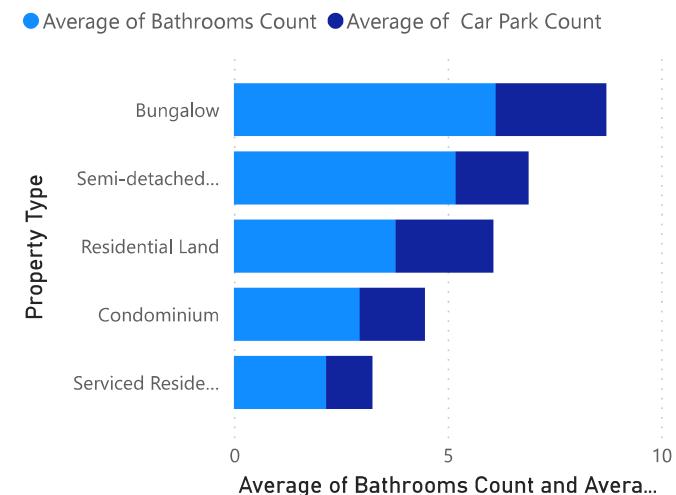

This Column Chart shows the average property price depending on their furnishing status. Surprisingly, Partly Furnished properties cost more on average compared to Fully Furnished properties for this data sample.

Count of Property Type by Property Type

This Pie Chart shows the percentage of each property type out of the total properties available. It helps to show from the data sample, which properties has the most sample size. We can see that more than 50% of the properties in the data consists of Condominiums.

Average of Bathrooms Count and Average of Car Park Count by Property Type

This Bar Chart shows each property type's average bathroom and car park count. The data shows that Bungalows properties have the most number of bathrooms and toilets on average out of all property types.

GROUP MEMBERS:

KHAIRUL FAHMI BIN MOHD YUSOF (A21MJ5011)
 ADAM ISKANDAR BIN SHARUDIN (A21MJ5041)
 CHING JIE KAI (A21MJ5037)
 SOO WEI XIANG (A21MJ5038)