4.0 Mini Report

The purpose of joining the activity is to make new friends, have better understanding on pesta tanglung and learned some skills to improve myself. In this activity, as a member of exhibition bureau I have an opportunity on doing virtual exhibition. Besides, I also wished to improve my communication skill with others and my leadership and teamworking skill.

Thinking skill, communication skill and leadership and teamworking skill are the graduate attributes that need to be focused on during the activity.

The first activity of this program is all the member and head of bureau have the meeting and discuss on the flow of the event day. Every member is then complete their works. On the event day, there are many different activities such as exhibition and some online game activities. Besides, a short movie is also been showed on Facebook live.

5.0 Self-Reflection

From this activity, my communication skill as well as leadership and teamworking skill were improved. During the activity each member need to provide their own ideas and discuss in the meeting. Besides, I also learned teamworking and leadership skill through this activity since every member works together.

In this activity, I could communicate well with each other. Moreover, I successfully carried out my task by edit the virtual exhibition and present it to others.

Challenge that I faced during the activity is I have no experience on doing the exhibition. This is my first time doing exhibition. During the activity, I have a better understanding on the history of tanglung festival. On the other hand, I need to do the poster and have a description to describe the history of pesta tanglung. To overcome all this problem, I need to make sure that I do more research on the history so that I can provide correct information to others.
