If you've ever applied to a job you've probably heard of the phrase "extracurricular activities" as something you should include on your resume/CV. The lessons you'll learn from participating in meaningful extracurricular activities will help you with everything from getting a job, to applying to some international program and to just living your life. The reasons I joined is I really love leadership. I like if I am on a higher position so that I can learn what my role is, how should I be more responsible and so on. You can take a look below some of my involvement in university.

On 24th April 2018, Kelab Kelana Siswa under UTM Kuala Lumpur conducted a COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT PROGRAMME @ PASURUAN (HIJRAH'18) for one week. In this program, I was appointed as a Head of Public Relation and Communication which is the position that I don't have any experiences before. All the committee in this program is really good and easy to work together.

The program is being implemented to help Pasuruan people to help in terms of generating the economy, caring for their children and promoting volunteer culture among the campus people, especially students and staff of Universiti Teknologi Malaysia, Kuala Lumpur.

Short introduction

Put pictures with captions!

Higher committee members of Hijrah'18 including Prof. Madya Ahmad bin Haji Khalid and Pn. Shazura

We collaborated with 3 local universities which were UPNM, UKM and UTM Johor Bahru. There were also students from Indonesia, STMIK and STIE Yadika Bangil joined us for this program. Total of 60 students and 5 executives from Malaysia joining this

Participants from UTM, UKM, UPM, STMIK and STIE Yadika Bangil

4 months before program, we as a committee members give a hand find a lot of sponsorship to support allowance and the charity there. Our main purposes are to renovate a madrasah and build toilets for poor people at Gendro. Besides, we also have a lot activities with people there along the week such as fun science, community sports, cultural night and mountains more. We achieved our main goal and had a great time interacting with the locals there and their culture.

The community service accomplishment that I'm most proud of is the work i did to help renovate the madrasah and organize a cultural night as an emcee. As a result of my community service, i gained hands-on experience in construction. I learned how to paving block and use a hammer and nails. Working on the madrasah could be challenging at times, but it taught me to appreciate the value of hard work and be more willing to pitch in when i see someone needs help. In conclusion, i learned a lot from my community service and i hope to keep volunteering and learning more about people around me.

Share your thoughts and what you have gained from the program/activities

For example:

- What are your thoughts on the experience in general? Was it a useful learning experience? What specific skills or perspectives did you acquire as a result?
- What have you learned about yourself as a result of the experience?

I have accomplished my Japanese class for three semesters in SLAJ1152, SLAJ2252 and SLAJ2352 at MJIIT, UTM Kuala Lumpur. Even though this language is a must course for us to graduate, but I have other reasons why I love to learn Japanese language. I'd bet that at least once in your life, you've felt a pang of regret during an encounter with someone from a different culture, when you realised how the experience could be enriched by knowing that person's language. That's also me regretting a lot before this. But...not know, I learned Japanese already! Besides, it is my dreams goal to travel to Japan in future, so I think it is early preparations that I have done. Moreover, in UTM Kuala Lumpur, students had a lot of opportunities to go to Japan under Sakura program, GMP and much more. So, they can apply this language over there successfully. For three semester I learned Japanese, I was guided by two beautiful sensei, SALWATI sensei and LOW sensei that always patient to teach us until we understand better.

Short description about your course/ learning experience was guided by two beautiful sensei, SALWATI sensei and LOW sensei that always patient to teach us until we understand better.

I had given three different assignment for three semester:

1st semester

In group of three, we need to act in front of class based on vocabulary and sentences that we have learned so far. So my groups story line is we went to watch shop to buy a watch based on cheapest price we can get. It's really fun as we need to utilize our Japanese knowledge and make a short dialogue.

2nd semester

For this semester, we need to do the assignment individually. The task is we need to interview Japanese lecturer and dig more about them. So, I decided to choose Dr Jun Ishimatsu for me to interview. I know a lot about him such as favorite place to eat, where he is live in Japan and many more. Surprisingly, he can speak Malay fluently! 🇲🇾

Reflections

I think this is the best task for Japan languages. It is because we need to make a video based on what situations we want. It tooks us about 2 days to shoot the video. We really laughed a lot when watched back the video. And other's group too. For your information, im in charge to edit the video as I really love to to this kind of thing.

You can watch the video here : https://youtu.be/qLqR_uvnfv8

Last but not least, what can I concluded is once you've held your very first conversation in a foreign language, trust me: you'll never look back. I am really glad for taking this language class. Currently, I am preparing for Job Fair Interview that will be held on October 2020. I have finished module one for Special Japanese Program last month for about one month and now, I still doing self-study to improve my vocabulary, grammar and so on for the interview.
