Online learning is now part of the learning session during this pandemic season as one of my hurdles to succeed. This online learning is too many challenges and can not meet face to face with lecturers and friends. That was my impression when I became a 1st-year undergraduate UTM student for the first time. Now, I am at the end of semester one, and I feel it is not as difficult as I thought. How do you see yourself as a 1st-year undergraduate UTM student now? After attending all UHMT-1112 classes or known as Graduate Success Attribute, I have gained more knowledge and skills after doing assignments and lecturers. Every time I do a given assignment, it is very closely related to my career in future. So it is improving to be a person who gets a lot of opportunities. Also, it can help to face the challenges ahead in the next semester and the industry.

Thinking skills are among my favorite skills that need to be constantly honed and improved. In this learning, I have been able to improve my critical thinking skills, and creative thinking skills make me more confident. To be successful, I need to know the solution to the problem because it is the main thing to help myself and others. Critical thinking and creative thinking are part of problem-solving. I have used both of these skills when performing every given task. I can come to the best decision by gathering and evaluating information from as many different sources as possible with my critical thinking skills. Also, my creative thinking help to produce ideas such as Smart Helmet on Technology and Information Systems. It is a great idea, and all team members are agreed to use this idea and get the best feedback from other groups.

Next, I learned about teamwork. What is teamwork? Teamwork is a combined action of a group of people, especially when effective and efficient. Teamwork is needed when do group task. During the pandemic, cooperation from group members needs to be higher than usual because we have never met each other. With good teamwork, all tasks can be done easily, quickly, and with quality. As a result, group members and I did a quality assignment and get applause from the lecturer. It means a lot to us and getting excited for another assignment. This skill becomes an obligation on every student or employee because we work together in a community.

Lastly, adaptability is very important now during the pandemic as be a 1st-year undergraduate UTM student. According to the oxford dictionary, adaptability is the quality of being able to adjust to new conditions. Adaptability is needed to make me continue focus during the pandemic because now we are using online learning. It is very different and new norms as a student. Then, I need to adapt to new friends, new surroundings, and new courses. My lecturer teaches about STAR which is S stands for SITUATION, T for TASK, A for ACTION, and R for RESULT. These steps are taught need had to adapt to change or had to be flexible in a situation. Now, I enjoy my online learning and communicate with new friends from many races and other countries.

In conclusion, these are not only three skills that help in my life, but all skills I learned in the Graduate Success Attribute course with my lecturer are useful for me. This course very helpful to me in developing my basic skills. I like to thanks my lecturer, Dr.

Norhaida for being a lecturer in this section. I will keep improving the basic skills that I learned so I can be more useful in my career as a student, friend, and employee.
